We're thrilled to announce the resounding success of the ARMA Spring Seminar 2024! Kicking off with an inspiring keynote address by Joe Shepley, attendees delved into the future of information powered by AI and the pivotal role it plays in shaping our approach to governance. Gabrielle Harris shared her expertise on navigating technological advancements in the RIM world, while the panel, moderated by David Fleming, explored the complexities of the digital landscape and strategies for effective risk mitigation and compliance. ## Bi-Annual Lunch Meet-Up

We're excited to share that our first bi-annual lunch meet-up on Thursday, April 25, 2024, was a fantastic start to a new tradition! Although our inaugural outing began with a small group, we're optimistic that future gatherings will see an increase in participation. This unique event format invites everyone to join us at the City Creek food court entrance for a casual 30-45 minutes of mingling, where attendees have the option to bring their own lunch or purchase something on-site. It's a refreshing change of pace that allows us to connect and foster new relationships. Whether you're an ARMA member or not, feel free to bring along friends and colleagues to our next gathering! We look forward to seeing you all there!
